MEETING OF THE FOURTEENTH YEAR

The Annual Meeting of the Jewish Publication Society of America was held on Sunday afternoon, May 18, 1902, in the Assembly Room of the Keneseth Israel Temple, Broad Street above Columbia Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa.

The President of the Society, Mr. Morris Newburger, called the meeting to order.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. Samuel Friedman, of Harrisburg, Pa.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The President made the following address:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—We represent one million of people in this country, but our influence does not stop at the confines of our land; it reaches English-speaking peoples over the face of the globe, and it reacts on Jewish culture movements in all nationalities. Ours is an American contribution to the Jewish developments of the age, and posterity will realize what we have accomplished in encouraging Jewish writing, and helping to widen the knowledge of Jewish literature.

Many of you doubtless fail to observe how important this work really is, and some of us may exaggerate its relative position. All, however, who believe that the Jewish life and thought of preceding ages, that the interpretation of this life and thought, are worth presenting to the general public; that the Jewish traits and doings of this and other days are worthy of description and study and publication; all such must agree that an organization like ours performs a valuable function in endeavoring to carry into execution plans based on these beliefs.

Some may maintain that the plans have not been properly made, or they may object that they have been badly carried out. That is a matter of opinion which it is difficult to determine. We have the fact before us that certain results have been accomplished. The men in whose hands the work of the organization has been placed have labored to the best of their ability. It is possible to conceive that the result in certain respects might have been different, but we must take into consideration that in certain other respects the results might not have been so good. I shall attempt merely to judge the work as a whole, and thus judging it, I cannot but think that the Jews of the United States are to be most heartily congratulated on the publication and distribution of so many valuable Jewish books and brochures. I seriously question whether any other body of officers could have been the means of producing a series of literary works, which, altogether, would have been so rich in material.

Besides the magnificent history, the scholarly studies, and the brilliant sketches, to which we referred in former years, we can this year point to the production of one of our young women, Miss Martha Wolfenstein, who in her "Idyls of the Gass" has shown literary ability of considerable power, and whose introduction to the literary world with her first volume of stories, through the medium of the Society, is exceedingly gratifying to us.

The recent publication by our Society of another collection of stories, "Strangers at the Gate," by Mr. Samuel Gordon, marks the present limits of a period of revival in Jewish fiction, to which other presses, as well as those of the Society, have contributed abundantly.

It is a pleasing indication of an interest in Jewish themes, and of an increase of Jewish writers. I have dwelt before on the subject of the growing number of Jewish writers of fiction in this country, and of their possibilities with an agency such as this Society, and I am glad to see that my hopes are being in a measure fulfilled. Even though we do not always have our imprint on Jewish works, we may take to ourselves the satisfaction of encouraging by our existence the publication of Jewish writings through other sources.

This applies not only to fiction, but to all classes of books. And we are more likely to publish in other classes, as other publishers are less willing to run financial risks on literature which appeals to a smaller proportion of the reading public; whereas we are always ready to treat with an author on the basis of our membership, and our arrangements are such that the author is sure of an honorarium, and we are sure of the disposition of copies at least equal in number to the number of our members.

It is a matter of deep regret to me that the Society has not found a feasible plan for another project which I have periodically brought to your attention—namely, that of a magazine. I still believe it important that the Jews of this country should have a magazine of dignity and power, and if it could be maintained under the auspices of this organization, its literary standing and worth would be assured. I realize that in the present state of the Society there would be difficulties in launching such a project, but I hope that the membership will sufficiently increase, or a plan for securing an additional income for this purpose formulated, so that another important feature will be added to the Society's already important undertakings.

We must still continue to promise the Bible. The Book of Psalms is the first of the books of the Bible which has been completed for publication, and it is the earnest hope of the committee in charge—and, I have no doubt, of the public as well—that it will be issued some time during the coming fiscal year. The issuance of this book, edited and translated under our auspices, will mark a further important step for our scholarship and enterprise.

There are not wanting signs which show that in this country we are exhibiting a fine combination of these two attributes of scholarship and enterprise. One is the appearance of the monumental Jewish Encyclopedia, whose publication is now proceeding with the generous pecuniary help of noble Jewish men. Its literary value has been exemplified in the character of the first volume, already published.

Another sign is the coming to this country of one whose scholarship the Society has recognized by the publication of his "Studies in Judaism." I refer to Dr. Solomon Schechter.

We have welcomed to our shores lesser lights, who have not been "called," but to whom we could not refrain from giving the hand of fellowship once they were here. They have emigrated from Russia, Roumania, and Eastern Europe, and some of their sons and daughters have been born on American soil. They are forming an element of our English-speaking population, and as such are part of the constituency which this Society desires to reach. As those that read English grow in numbers and prosperity, they will appeal more and more to us as possible readers of our books, and members of our organization. We must take into consideration their need for a Jewish literature in the English language. As societies and schools are being organized among them for the study and discussion of Jewish knowledge and Jewish problems, we must be ready to supply the publications they need. By enrolling the individuals and organizations as members, we will make them acquainted with the fact that it is possible to obtain a knowledge of Jewish literature and Jewish life through the medium of the English language. They will learn that in America there is Jewish thought and Jewish feeling, which can find its expression in the diction of the people among whom they live.

If our publications are made available to this population, they will be helpful in the problems which confront it in the development and maintenance of a constructive religious policy. For the young people of this population are not following the paths of their parents, and they must find a way of their own. This Society can be helpful, at least, in showing that the historic sayings of Israel can be clothed in modern garb, and may thus form a basis of belief and action in these modern times.

As a practical measure, therefore, it must be the purpose of this organization to reach out to the newer immigrants and their children. It is pleasing to note, in this connection, that quite a number are enrolled as members, and we hope that with their economic advance we shall be enabled to add larger and larger numbers to our list.

This brings me to the general subject of membership. I regret to say that the number of members has been practically the same for the past few years. Our efforts to increase the membership this year have not proved more successful than in previous years.

Our mainstay in securing members still continues to be our one general representative, Mrs. K. H. Scherman. She has spent most of her time in New York City during the fiscal year, and this will account for the increase there.

We have also had local canvassers in several cities, but the results from their work have not been large. We have appealed to our officers, and to representative men in the various localities, but thus far comparatively small returns in actual memberships have been obtained. However, I trust that the agencies thus set in motion will be more productive as those appealed to will have perfected plans. The new members enrolled have merely replaced those who have withdrawn.

I need not say this is a sore disappointment to me. The size and wealth of the Jewish community of the United States warrant a much better constituency of subscribers at three dollars per year. I wish the Jews of the United States could be made to appreciate how effective their individual subscriptions of three dollars each yearly could be in building up a varied Jewish literature, which would give them, their children, and the world at large a broader knowledge, and would make possible more frequent publication of writings of current interest, relating to Jews and Judaism.

The Michael Heilprin Permanent Fund is where it stood a year ago, and no recent additions have been made thereto. Are there no more Jacob H. Schiffs and Guggenheims to swell this fund to the amount originally intended? I hope there are, and that they will soon materialize. The list of life members and patrons ought also to be largely increased.

I have in my previous reports given you an outline of the arduous duties performed by the members of the Publication Committee and by the Board of Directors and the Treasurer, particularly the first named, and I desire to publicly acknowledge my appreciation of their devotion to the best interests of the Society, for work well done in the past year, and for the kindly feeling displayed towards myself.

I want also to express the thanks of the Society to Dr. Cyrus Adler for his great work of editing the Year Book gratuitously.

Our thanks are due to all who have worked in behalf of our Society. The Jewish clergy, especially, in all sections of this country deserve our acknowledgments.

Miss Szold, the Secretary of the Publication Committee, and Dr. Bernheimer, our General Secretary, have maintained their high record for capacity, untiring energy, and devotion to their duties; and Mrs. Kate Scherman, our field agent, during her New York canvass, has been indefatigable in her efforts to secure members.

In conformity with a provision of our Charter, you will elect a President, two Vice-Presidents, five members of the Board of Directors, and five Honorary Vice Presidents, whose terms of office expire to-day.

A proposition will be submitted to you for your consideration to amend Article III, Section 3, of the By-Laws, by adding, "A President, who shall retire after having served for ten consecutive years, shall become an Honorary Member of the Board."

Other matters appertaining to the Society's condition, finances, and the work of the last fiscal year, are set forth in the printed report of the Board, which will be handed to you.

Ladies and Gentlemen, ours is the ideal institution, the vehicle destined to carry Judaism to the highest pinnacle of glory, to perpetuate our history and the eternal truths of our sacred religion, until in God's own time it shall have fulfilled its mission, when all men shall worship the one God, Adonai Echod.

ORGANIZATION OF THE MEETING

Mr. Wm. B. Hackenburg, of Philadelphia, nominated the Hon. Simon Wolf, of Washington, D. C., for Chairman of the meeting, and he was unanimously elected.

Mr. Cyrus L. Sulzberger, of New York, nominated Dr. Charles S. Bernheimer, of Philadelphia, as Secretary of the meeting, and he was elected by acclamation.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Annual Report of the Board of Directors was presented in printed form and its reading was dispensed with.

The report is as follows:

The Jewish Publication Society of America has now concluded its fourteenth year.

After last year's meeting in May, 1901, the Board of Directors elected the following officers: Treasurer, Morris Dannenbaum, of Philadelphia; Secretary, Lewis W. Steinbach, of Philadelphia; Assistant Secretary, Charles S. Bernheimer, of Philadelphia; Secretary to the Publication Committee, Henrietta Szold, of Baltimore. The following were chosen members of the Publication Committee: Mayer Sulzberger, of Philadelphia; Cyrus Adler, of Washington, D. C.; David W. Amram, of Philadelphia; Henry Berkowitz, of Philadelphia; Solomon Solis Cohen, of Philadelphia; B. Felsenthal, of Chicago; Herbert Friedenwald, of Philadelphia; Charles Gross, of Cambridge, Mass.; Marcus Jastrow, of Philadelphia; Max Landsberg, of Rochester, N. Y.; Henry M. Leipziger, of New York; David Philipson, of Cincinnati; Samuel Sale, of St. Louis; Simon A. Stern, of Philadelphia; and Oscar S.

Straus, of New York. Mayer Sulzberger was elected by the Committee as its Chairman.

PERMANENT FUND

The sum of $41 has been added to the Permanent Fund since the last report. The Fund now amounts to $17,145.50, as follows:

Michael Heilprin Memorial Fund :

Donation of Jacob H. Schiff	$5,000
Donation of Meyer Guggenheim.....	5,000

$10,000 00

Morton M. Newburger Memorial Fund.....	500 00
Bequest of J. D. Bernd.....	500 00
Donations.....	145 50
Life Membership Fund	5,900 00
Bequest (Lucien Moss).....	100 00

$17,145 50

Two life memberships have been enrolled during the past year. One of these is District Grand Lodge No. 7, I. O. B. B., whose Committee reported that "The Jewish Publication Society of America is a purely American institution, and it should be the object of this District to strengthen the hands of all those who are engaged in the noble work of educating our English-speaking coreligionists. We draw the attention of the Convention to the splendid work of that Society in familiarizing English-speaking Jews with the monumental History of the Jews by Graetz, and maintain that if that were the only product of the Society's activity, it would be well worthy of our whole-hearted support both as Jews and as American citizens."

The splendid example which has been set by this District in becoming a life member should be followed by other districts, other lodge orders, and other organizations. It is gratifying to note the recommendation as well as the practical recognition of the work of the Society. The addition of life memberships, both from organizations and from individuals, would be most helpful in promoting the permanency of the Society, thereby making more enduring its plans and purposes. We hope that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of adding to its Permanent Fund, by life memberships, bequests, or donations.

Of these there are:

Members.....	4,696
Subscribers.....	34
Total.....	4,808

There are included in the above 372 members whose dues remain unpaid for the year ending June 1, 1901, and who have not received the publications of the year ending June 1, 1902. They will be omitted from the roll of membership if their dues are not paid forthwith. There are also included 76 members in good standing whose resignations take effect June 1, 1902, and 69 members whose subscriptions begin June 1, 1902.

If the membership is assumed to be 4808, there is a decrease of 273 from the membership reported last year. It is, of course, regretted that the membership should show this decrease. We hope that means will be found by which there will be a very considerable increase hereafter. Our field agent, Mrs. K. H. Scherman, has continued the work of canvassing, chiefly in New York City and in towns of New Jersey. We have also employed local canvassers in several localities. The accessions to the membership have, however, been unequal to the losses caused by lapses, resignations, and deaths.

PUBLICATIONS

The following publications have been issued since the last meeting:

- (1) American Jewish Year Book, 5662, edited by Cyrus Adler.

- (2) "Idyls of the Gass," by Martha Wolfenstein.
- (3) "Hearth and Home Essays," by Esther J. Ruskay.
- (4) "Strangers at the Gate," by Samuel Gordon.

As the Society was the means of bringing out the brilliant work "Children of the Ghetto," which first made the reputation of Israel Zangwill, so now it may congratulate itself on having published the "Idyls of the Gass" by an American author, her first book, which has been recognized as a distinct literary contribution. We have this year issued also a collection of stories by Samuel Gordon, whose "Sons of the Covenant" was published by us last year. The publication of his latest work is too recent for us to judge as to how it is being received, but we may confidently predict favorable criticism of its literary value.

We are pleased to report that we have arranged with the Publication Committee of the Jewish Historical Society of England to act as our English selling agents.

Our next publication will be papers of the Jewish Chautauqua Summer Assembly of 1901. It will be issued in June.

THE BIBLE TRANSLATION

Arrangements have now been completed for the publication of the Book of Psalms, and we hope to issue it during the forthcoming fiscal year. It is our intention to publish portions of the Bible from time to time as they are translated and revised, and to issue finally a complete Bible in one volume. We desire that this Bible shall be noteworthy as a contribution to American Jewish scholarship. It is our purpose to publish the separate portions in an attractive manner, so that their mechanical make-up will commend itself to readers.

There has been no addition to the Bible Fund. The total sum subscribed has been $3755. This has been drawn upon for the greater part. It has been estimated that the total amount required for the completion of the Bible will be $25,000. We sincerely trust that with the first practical evidence of the work that has been done on the Bible there will be renewed interest among those who should give it practical support. We shall await contributions to the Bible Fund from among men of affairs who are able and who should be willing to help so valuable an undertaking.

AMENDMENT TO THE BY-LAWS

The members will be asked to vote on the following amendment to Article III, Section 3, of the By-Laws:

“A President, who shall retire after having served for ten consecutive years, shall become an Honorary Member of the Board.”

Respectfully submitted by the Board of Directors,

MORRIS NEWBURGER,

The Rev. Samuel Friedman suggested the consideration of a change of membership dues from $3 to $5, and the subsidizing or publication of a periodical. Referred to the Committee on the part of the Report relating to Publications.

A recess was then taken.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Upon the reassembling of the meeting, the Committee on Nominations presented the following names:

Directors, for three years: Cyrus Adler, of Washington, D. C.; Henry M. Leipziger, of New York; Daniel Merz, of Philadelphia; Morris Newburger, of Philadelphia; Mayer Sulzberger, of Philadelphia.

President, for one year, Morris Newburger, of Philadelphia.

Vice-President, for one year, Henry M. Leipziger, of New York.

Second Vice-President, for one year, Herman S. Friedman, of Philadelphia.

Honorary Vice-Presidents, for three years: Marcus Bernheimer, of St. Louis; Henry Cohen, of Galveston, Texas; Aaron Friedenwald, of Baltimore; Alfred Seasingood, of Cincinnati; Jacob Voorsanger, of San Francisco.

On motion the Secretary cast the unanimous ballot of the meeting for the nominees, and they were declared duly elected.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

The Committee on Nominations also presented the following recommendation for amendment to Article III of the By-Laws, to be called Section VI:

“Any Director who has served for ten consecutive years shall become an Honorary Director after the expiration of his term of office, and as such shall have all the privileges of a Director.

“Any member who has served for ten or more consecutive years as President, Vice-President, Secretary, or Treasurer, may, at his own option, become an Honorary Director at the expiration of his term of office, and as such shall have all the privileges of a Director.”

The following amendment to Article III, Section 3 of the By-Laws which proposed adding “A President, who shall retire after having served for ten consecutive years, shall become an Honorary Member of the Board,” which had been duly submitted by notice to the members, was taken up for action.

On motion it was agreed to refer the above amendment and the recommendation of the committee to the Board of Directors for report.

PERMANENT FUND

The Committee on the Part of the Report relating to Permanent Fund made the following report:

The Committee on Permanent Fund recommends that the Society communicate with Jewish lawyers throughout the country requesting that in the drawing of wills for their clients they suggest this organization as a suitable beneficiary.

A motion to continue the committee with power to report to the next annual meeting or to the Board of Directors was lost.

The report was referred to the Board of Directors.

MEMBERSHIP

The Committee on the part of the Report relating to Membership submitted the following:

The Committee on Membership reports that it recommends to the Board of Trustees to obtain catalogues of various universities in the United States, ascertain the names of Jewish students, and correspond with them, offering a fair remuneration for obtaining new members. This is merely repeating the recommendation made at the last annual meeting.

The report was referred to the Board.

BIBLE FUND

The Committee on the part of the Report relating to Bible Fund reported:

The great necessity for a revised edition of the Bible prepared under the guidance of Jewish scholars, and published in such popular form as to place it in the home of every Jew, cannot be doubted. It should be the earnest desire of every member of this Society to further this undertaking of the Publication Committee and to lend his assistance to its fulfilment.

We are encouraged by the information contained in the President's report that a volume of the Psalms will be published during the coming year. We believe this publication would afford an excellent opportunity for bringing this matter to the attention of the Jewish public and making an earnest effort to enlist their co-operation.

A popular subscription will give every one an opportunity to aid in carrying on this work, and we believe our members will willingly respond to such an appeal. Furthermore, there are many noble-minded men in our community who have been blessed with large means, and who will consider it an honor to make it possible for American Judaism to realize this undertaking.

We would therefore suggest that at or about the time of the issuance of the Book of Psalms, committees be organized in the various cities of the United States, under the direction of the Board of Trustees of this Society, and that an earnest and determined effort be then made by personal solicitation and propaganda to raise the necessary sum of money to continue and complete this great work.

We have every reason to believe that such efforts will result successfully.

The report was referred to the Board of Directors.

ON APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEES

Mr. Herzberg moved that the Board of Directors appoint such committees as they shall find necessary for the annual meeting at least two weeks prior to such meeting. Agreed to.

PUBLICATIONS

The Committee on the Part of the Report relating to Publications submitted the following:

We are of opinion that the books published by the Society, taken as a whole from the beginning, covering as they do important sections in the fields of history, philosophy, scholarly investigation, and fiction, are the best evidence of the general wisdom and good judgment exercised by the committee that has had general control of selection in publications.

During the past year the Year Book, Miss Wolfenstein's "Idyls of the Gass," Mrs. Ruskay's Essays, and Gordon's "Strangers at the Gate," entitle that committee to our special congratulation. Especially the writing of a strong human story like Miss Wolfenstein's by an American writer under the auspices of this Society should be gratifying to us all. The Ghetto stories have done much to open our eyes to the fact that during ages of persecution and under circumstances of unremitting poverty, the ideals of self-sacrifice and moral life have been preserved among our brethren the world over. Yet, perhaps, the time has come when it might be well to consider whether this Ghetto field has not for the present been sufficiently explored.

We advise against any change in the dues of the Society and also against the creation of a new Jewish weekly or the subsidizing of an old one. In the matter of a magazine, its creation must be held in abeyance. The probability is that this must remain for future private enterprise.

We recommend affirmatively:

1. Works especially prepared.
2. Translation of works of general value and of recognized merit which are not likely to be accessible through other sources.

3. The republication of English works that have special Jewish interest, and have undoubted place in general literature, but which have not had general circulation among Jewish people. By this recommendation we intend, however, to exclude works on which the copyright has expired or is about to expire and which are still in print.

On motion, the first two recommendations of the committee were separately adopted, and the third recommendation was not agreed to.

Mr. Seligman J. Strauss then moved the adoption of the following:

To recommend the republication of English works that have special Jewish interest and have undoubted place in general literature, but which have not had general circulation among Jewish people. Agreed to.

Mr. Ephraim Lederer moved that the thanks of the meeting be tendered the Hon. Simon Wolf for the able manner in which he had presided. Unanimously agreed to.

Dr. Cyrus Adler moved the thanks of the meeting to the Temple Keneseth Israel for the use of the Assembly Room. Unanimously agreed to.

On motion, the meeting adjourned.

CHARLES S. BERNHEIMER, Secretary.
