THE SIXTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

Anglo-Jewish Association.

1934.

Adopted by the Council on the 3rd of March, 1935.

The Council regret to have to state that there has been no alleviation of the deplorable situation of the Jews in Germany. The Joint Foreign Committee of the Anglo-Jewish Association and the Jewish Board of Deputies continues to watch the position and to inform public opinion concerning the various phases of the oppression of their German brethren in faith. This subject and other matters affecting the Jews in Central and Eastern Europe are dealt with at length in the report given below by the President of the Association and headed "Joint Action with the Board of Deputies." It may here be mentioned that the Council have renewed for three years their agreement with the Board of Deputies for joint action on foreign affairs.

Together with the Board of Deputies the Anglo-Jewish Association presented an Address of Congratulation to His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent on the occasion of his marriage to Princess Marina of Greece. The Duke tendered to both organisations his "sincere thanks for the kind expressions of good wishes the Address contains."

The Council record with deep regret the deaths of Mr. L. Ash, their colleague since 1912, of Lady Waley Cohen, a member of the Ladies' Committee since 1911, of Mr. Samuel Samuel, M.P., on many occasions a generous contributor to the funds of the Association, and of Baron Edmond de Rothschild, the pioneer and munificent supporter of the colonisation in Palestine.

In virtue of the power vested in them by the Constitution, the Council co-opted Mr. H. A. Goodman as a member, and elected him a member of the Joint Foreign Committee.

The Anglo-Jewish Association holds 4,595 of the 20,000 fully paid-up shares of £100 each into which the capital of the Jewish Colonisation Association, founded by the late Baron de Hirsch, is divided. Mr. Leonard G. Montefiore, O.B.E., the President of the Anglo-Jewish Association, represents it on the Council of the "Ica," and is a regular attendant at the meetings which are held in Paris.

The Portuguese Marranos Committee of London, to the funds of which the Anglo-Jewish Association is again contributing £50 a year for five years, reports: "The Portuguese Marranos Committee has continued during the past year to subvention the religious and educational work carried on in an honorary capacity by Capt. A. C. de Barros Basto, of Oporto. The anticipated completion of the Kadoorie Synagogue in Oporto was delayed owing to the increased cost which has had to be incurred and which has since been most generously promised by the benefactors. £1,000 has been already received. view of local difficulties which had recently arisen, it was found necessary by the Committee to commission Mr. Paul Goodman, the Hon. Secretary, to investigate the conditions on the spot; and, on a Report presented by him, the Committee has expressed its continued confidence in Capt. Barros Basto, and the necessary arrangements are being made for the stately Kadoorie Synagogue to be completed. It is anticipated that this Synagogue will become the religious and social centre of Judaism in Northern Portugal, and will exercise a beneficent Jewish influence on the numerous Marranos who are scattered all over that part of the country."

Consequent upon the death of the Collector, who had served the Association during a long period of years, it was arranged, for the sake of economy, that all London subscriptions should be collected through the medium of the office of the Association. This arrangement has, so far, yielded satisfactory results, and the Council tender their thanks to the subscribers who have fallen in with it. The Council make an earnest appeal to all members of the Association, whether resident in this country or overseas, to give practical effect to their interest in its work by enrolling new subscribers to replace those who have, unfortunately, passed away.

I.—BRANCHES.

The Anglo-Jewish Association has branches in Great Britain, Dominions, India, Iraq, China and Japan.

Mr. D. Skitten, hitherto Honorary Collector for the Liverpool Branch, is now its Honorary Secretary.

Economic conditions everywhere have not sufficiently improved to permit of the contributions from all the Branches being restored to their former high level. The Council have pleasure in tendering their cordial thanks to Honorary Officers, especially Honorary Secretaries, for their valuable services.

H.—JOINT ACTION WITH THE BOARD OF DEPUTIES. GERMANY.

Throughout the year 1934, the policy of reducing the Jews to the status of aliens, whose presence is merely tolerated in the land of their birth, was steadily pursued by the National Socialist Government. The total exclusion of Jews from the professions has not vet been achieved, owing to the fact that so very large a proportion of Jewish lawyers and doctors were able to prove that they had been fighting in the front line during the war. As a result, however, of anti-Jewish legislation the number of Jewish students at the Universities has fallen from something over 3,000 to something over 300. Except for those who are able to pursue their studies abroad, the Jews in Germany find themselves completely deprived of University education, even at those seats of learning which owe their very existence to Jewish benefactions. Throughout the year, the process of disintegration which affected the smaller provincial communities in 1933 was continued. The country towns and villages have been deserted by the younger generation, who have either emigrated, or sought to find new means of existence in the larger towns. Among the smaller Jewish communities, several instances have been reported where there were no children of school age, and many more where there was a wholly disproportionate number of people of middle age or of advanced years. The Central Committee for Welfare and Reconstruction has continued to make strenuous efforts to grapple with immense difficulties. Future employment for the Jewish youth which remains in Germany depends largely on the continued existence of small Jewish shopkeepers and tradesmen. Accordingly, a system of loan banks has been organised in order to lend support to the small employers of labour whose economic existence is imperilled.

Efforts have also been made to provide fresh Jewish schools, both for the sake of the pupils and also in order to absorb a certain number of Jewish teachers, who have been dismissed from their employment in the State schools. By the creation of the Kulturbund, some attempt has been made to provide the Jewish community with theatrical performances, lectures and concerts of which they have been deprived. The Kulturbund's activities also provide some opportunity for employment to Jewish performers who are prevented from appearing at any German Theatre or Concert Hall. All these efforts meet continually with hindrances created by local party or Government officials.

REFUGEES FROM GERMANY.

Under the guidance of Mr. James McDonald, the High Commissioner for Refugees coming from Germany, the work of resettlement continued to make headway against considerable difficulties. Reports received from the High Commission and from Mr. Neville Laski, K.C., the representative of Anglo-Jewish organisations on its Bureau and Advisory Council, indicated that over 70,000 refugees have had to be considered. and that of these about one-fifth were non-Jews. Of the total number, about one-half have been actually settled-Palestine alone accounting for over 20,000—and the remainder have obtained temporary refuge in France, Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, and other European countries. World-wide economic depression and unemployment have been responsible for the reluctance of most countries to admit refugees for permanent settlement, and for the poor financial support from all but the Jewish Communities to the work of the High Commission. Though much has been done, the time has unfortunately not yet come to desist from further endeavours. Indeed, the reunion of the Saar with Germany raises a further problem of refugees that may add to the already heavy obligations which the Jews in this and other countries have been called upon to bear.

THE SAAR.

In view of the fate which had overtaken the Jews in Nazi Germany, the prospect of the union of the Saar with the Reich was not one which could be contemplated with equanimity as far as the small Jewish Community in that territory was concerned. The Committee of Three appointed by the League to arrange the plebiscite in the Saar was able prior to that event, fixed for January 13th, 1935, to bring about an agreement between France and Germany, whereby the latter undertook, should the plebiscite result in her favour, not to discriminate against the inhabitants of the Saar on account of race, language, or religion. As the undertaking, however, was limited to a period of one year only after the plebiscite, it did little to allay the anxiety felt for the future of the Jews in that district.

AUSTRIA.

The year 1934 proved a most unhappy year for Austria. A socialist revolt in February, suppressed only after considerable bloodshed, was followed by an abortive Nazi "Putsch" in July, in which the Chancellor, Dr. Dollfuss, was murdered, and which created a state of tension and fear for the peace of Europe. Fortunately, as a result of the strong stand taken by the Western European Powers—notably, Italy—for the independence of Austria, the danger of a Nazi regime in the latter country was temporarily averted.

Three months prior to Dr. Dollfuss's assassination, a new Constitution had been promulgated for the building up of "a Christian German Federal State on corporative foundations." Although the new Constitution maintained the equality of civic and religious rights, which Jews had enjoyed under the Republic, its interpretation by the authorities responsible for its administration gave grounds for legitimate complaint—particularly in the case of Jewish members of the professions and "brain workers" generally, who had been dismissed from public employment and were virtually debarred from re-entry.

POLAND AND DANZIG.

The serious economic position of Polish Jewry showed no signs of improvement—indeed, various legislative enactments tended to its aggravation, especially in regard to Jewish traders and artisans.

Politically, the rise of a new anti-Semitic National Radical Party with aims modelled on the Nazi programme, created a fresh danger to the community. Its violent methods, which did not stop short of physical attack, led after a time to its suppression by the Government.

The powerful National Democratic Party still maintains its anti-Semitic policy unchecked to any material extent by the Government; restrictive action by the Government is, however, hoped for in spite of the growing accord between Germany and Poland.

In Danzig, the Jews are subjected to conditions only slightly better than those in Germany. Although they have de jure equality of rights, the all-powerful influence of the Nazi Party and a preponderantly Nazi Senate has made the lot of the 8,000 Jewish inhabitants very difficult to bear, harassed as they are by the unscrupulous propaganda of the Nazi press and secret boycott methods.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND MINORITIES.

The announcement that the Polish Government intended to re-open the question of the Minorities Treaties at the League of Nations Assembly and their proposal that an International Commission should be summoned to discuss the extension of these Treaties to all countries, aroused considerable interest and some anxiety prior to the Assembly. This interest was enhanced when, at the opening session of the Assembly, Colonel Beck, the Polish Foreign Minister, stated that his government could no longer co-operate with the League of Nations in questions concerning Minorities. This attitude, taken in many authoritative quarters to indicate a unilateral repudiation of the Minorities Treaty to which Poland was a party, was received with marked disapproval in the Assembly, and unmistakably condemned in speeches by the representatives of Great Britain and France, among others. Although Poland's proposal for the generalisation of the Minorities Treaties was later withdrawn in the VIth Commission, her actual position in regard to her obligations under the Minorities Treaty still remains somewhat obscure.

ROUMANIA.

The Jews, in common with other minorities, view with considerable apprehension a recent law which stipulates that at least 80 per cent. of the personnel engaged in economic, industrial, commercial and civil employment must be of "Roumanian origin," and which thus only permits 20 per cent. of persons of alien origin to be employed. This division, although not ostensibly based on racial theories, is held by the anti-Semitic Parties to be a triumph for the Hitlerist views which they have adopted. If rigorously administered, the law is bound to have the effect of depriving thousands of Jewish officials and artisans of their right to work.

The Jewish community is naturally making a vigorous stand against the enactment, but it is not yet possible to say with what success.

Mr. Neville Laski, K.C., President of the Board of Deputies, was in Geneva during the session of the League Assembly in September. His reports of a journey made during the summer to Austria, Poland and Danzig were circulated and aroused much interest.

III.—SCHOOLS.

The Council voted subventions during the year to Schools at Baghdad, Basra, Beyrout, Bombay, Corfu, Damascus, Haifa (Alliance Israélite Schools and the Technical Institute), Hamadan, Hillah, Ispahan, Jaffa, Jerusalem, Salonica, Shanghai, and Tetuan. The subventions reached the total of £8,067; the amounts granted to each of the above-named Schools are set out in the Income and Expenditure Account in subsequent pages. The largest sums were sent to Baghdad (£783), Bombay (£600) and Jerusalem (£5,356). With one exception, English is taught in all the Schools mentioned above.

Madame Sartena, the teacher of English at the Salonica

Schools, writes:-

The teaching of English is being normally pursued. I am getting more and more convinced that the "New Method Readers," which I adopted last year on the recommendation of the British Consul-General, are excellent and are very well suited to the needs of our pupils. The lower class is this year attended by 52 pupils. I am satisfied with their work and with the progress achieved. Our pupils show much goodwill, and are attentive and industrious in their studies. Thus, in three months, we have completed the first volume of the series, and towards the end of December we started on the second volume. The highest class is using the fourth volume of the series and at the same time reading a book of extracts from "David Copperfield." The work and the progress of this class, too, are quite satisfactory.

I am glad to let you know that our English classes proved very satisfactory this year. All the pupils have improved and several of them now reach a fair level. They are all very keen about their English lessons and are very much interested in everything relating to England. I take the liberty of asking you again for correspondents, boys and girls about 13 to 16 years of age. Our pupils would be very thankful for this favour. I am sending you some of our pupils' examination papers. Both lower and higher forms are pretty good, as you may see, especially as the pupils in the lower form have been studying English eight months only. The top boys are only 12 years old and are very promising. The best one got $17\frac{1}{2}$ marks out of twenty, and the next one 14 out of 20. We have then several 13, 12½, 12 and many 11 and 10. The others are not very far behind. In the higher form the results are also pretty fair. They have mastered much vocabulary and can converse on almost any common topic. The best pupil, a boy, got 14 out of 20 marks. His English is correct and now and then quite idiomatic. Three girls then come with 13 out of 20 marks, and the others go down from $12\frac{1}{2}$ to $8\frac{1}{2}$ out of twenty. As you may see, there is not a wide difference between the first pupil of the class and the last one, and as they have studied English two years only, I think the results are praiseworthy.

The Director of the Schools at Haifa, where English is also taught, emphasises in his report the fact that large numbers of former pupils owe their satisfactory positions to the education they have received. The most important administrations have recourse to the School when they seek employees, whose work is highly appreciated.

The Director of the Schools at Ispahan (in which there are 759 pupils of both sexes), writes with reference to the instruction in English: The pupils in the Secondary Classes ardently continue the study of the English language. Their teacher uses the most modern methods, which give the most rapid and efficient results. The pupils use "The New Method Reader." which is at the same time a book of orthography, vocabulary, language, grammar, composition, and recitation. The lessons comprise many kinds of exercises on the English language. In the higher forms the scholars are also taught commercial correspondence. The progress of the pupils is so satisfactory that those who leave our School to enter the English College in this city are immediately admitted into the higher classes. however, endeavour to prevent them from going to this College, as the missionaries there try to convert them, or at least to weaken their sentiments for the Jewish faith and traditions.

The Director of the Damaseus School has informed the Council that, thanks to the munificence of Sir Elly Kadoorie, the institution is now located in the finest building to be seen in the whole of Syria. Numerous tourists and residents visit the School daily; it is situated outside the Jewish quarter, in the midst of beautiful gardens. The classrooms are spacious and airy, and the equipment is new and modern.

Reports on the Schools which receive the largest subventions

JERUSALEM.

Miss Annie E. Landau, M.B.E., Headmistress of the Evelina de Rothschild Girls' School, has furnished the following report covering the year 1934:—

The number on the roll at the end of 1934 was 389. This number is still an increase of 25 above Government regulations, but the demand for admission is as great as ever; German children continue to arrive, asking to be taken in, and it is almost impossible to refuse; we are now so full that we must call a halt. The new German children settle down very quickly; they make remarkable progress, and in a short time are able to take their place in classes with pupils of their own age.

The top elementary class has been turned into a secondary class, giving us now five elementary classes and four secondary and one commercial class. We have decided to extend the commercial class course from one year to two, and hope that the pupils of the present class will avail themselves of the second year course.

We have discontinued the calisthenic dancing lessons, given by Mrs. Aylmer Harris, and replaced them by a Dalcroze Eurhythmic lesson, as there is no time for both.

In addition to the General School Hebrew and English Libraries, Class Libraries have been established in the Commercial VIth, Vth, and IVth classes.

The Guide Movement in the School continues to be popular; we have started a new company, making four companies and one Pack. Had we more officers, we should have almost the whole school enrolled as Guides.

The Old Girls' Association, too, is now a healthy organisation. We have given them excellent Hebrew-English Libraries, which are much appreciated by the Old Girls. They also have net ball weekly, and meetings and lectures during the year. We are pleased to be able to say that all our Old Girls who desire work have been placed; the demand from offices exceeds the number we are able to supply.

There have been three changes in the Staff. Mrs. Moss Levy, who was with us from 1925-28, has replaced Miss Goodman; Miss Brandes, who was also with us some years ago, has replaced Miss Wechsler; Mrs. Levin, who is on a year's leave of absence without pay, is replaced by Mrs. Hetsroni, who teaches Cookery in addition to Drill and Sports.

The children took part in the Hebrew Inter-School Sports. They gained the Junior and Senior School Sports Shields, and a number of medals were won by individual girls.

Mr. Karl Salomon, of the Berlin Opera House, lectured to the children on Opera; two hundred subsequently attended a performance of Chamber Opera conducted by him.

It is with deep gratitude that I write that we have at last been allowed to supply a long felt want in erecting a Dining Hut for use during the luncheon hour. It has always been such a pressing need, and the question was becoming a desperate one for us. We have been allowed to utilise a 1933 surplus, and the amount of School fees collected in 1934 in excess of the Estimates, for the Dining Hut. Building has commenced, and within a month we hope to be using the Hut. We shall then be able to give hot meals to the children, supplying the poorer ones with free meals, from funds collected from friends and also from an annual donation given us by the North American Relief Fund expressly for the purpose. We take this opportunity of expressing our thanks publicly to the administrators of that Fund for the kind annual contribution.

We were gratified to receive a visit from Sir Elly Kadoorie, K.B.E., and his son Mr. Lawrence Kadoorie, at the beginning of the year, and to be able to present to Sir Elly the fortunate pupils who had gained prizes given so generously by him. We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the Howard Prize, the Kadoorie, Etta and Julius Levy, Belasco, and Marsden Prizes. Mr. Gustave Tuck has again sent us a large number of beautiful books.

RUSSELL & CO.,

Chartered Accountants.

We are very grateful to our School Medical Officer, Dr. Kamel Id, and to Miss Dedah, our nurse, for their ever courteous help in looking after the health of our children.

Some unforeseen expenditure had to be incurred owing to the fact that several ceilings collapsed during the spring term, and had to be repaired during the summer holidays.

Our girls took part in the "Birthday of the Trees" Celebrations on 15th Shebat. The elder girls joined other schools in tree planting in Talpioth, and the younger remained and planted in our own garden. Every girl received a bag of various kinds of fruit. Chanukah passed in festive spirit; the children provided the complete entertainment even to writing their own plays.

We hope to begin a School Magazine this year.

We are contemplating far reaching alterations in the length of the summer vacation. Hitherto, School has reopened at the end of the Jewish Holy-days. As, however, these fall so late in 1935, it would mean either working well into August, which has always proved a great trial in the very hot weather, or shortening the holiday and beginning on September 8th, closing for the Holy-days, and then giving a week's holiday at Chanukah. This Chanukah holiday is usual in other schools, but we have not hitherto been able to spare the time. We shall, therefore, probably try the plan of shortening the summer holiday as outlined above.

Visitors to the School during the year have included: Mr. Elkan N. Adler; Mr. and Mrs. N. I. Adler; Miss D'Avigdor; Mrs. Bowles; Miss Cameron, of Lochiel; Mrs. Lionel L. Cohen; Mr. and Mrs. Ezra; Mrs. F. S. the School.

BAGHDAD.

Dr. F. S. Kallay, Principal of the Shamash Secondary School, has sent the following report:—

The scholastic year 1933-34 ended with 421 boys on the school register, although we had begun with 460.

The school was in 1933-34 composed of 11 classes, six of them being primary and five secondary. The first secondary was duplicated because of the number of the new boys in this class. All the boys of the Sixth Form (19 in number) graduated and five of them have entered for the London Matriculation Examination in January, 1935, but the result is not yet known. The majority of the others have found work either on the railway, in banks, or in private One is now in London studying at the Polytechnic.

Some of our students entered for the Government Primary and Intermediate Examinations. Of the 35 who took the Primary, 33 were successful, and this was the best result for any school in the whole country. Eleven boys took the Intermediate Examination and nine were successful. These exceedingly satisfactory results have encouraged us to enter some more boys for this year's Examinations when we hope to have even more successful results.

Seven of the boys who passed the Intermediate Examination have left our school to study in the Government High School with the object of pursuing medical or legal studies, since, according to the local regulations, only graduates of a Government School can be accepted at any Institution for higher studies in Iraq.

The sports side of the school was carried on with much enthusiasm and success. The Government held an Inter-School long-distance race, and one of our students gained the second prize, which was presented to him by H.M. King Ghazi. There was also an Inter-School table-tennis competition, at which one of our students was the runner-up; he was presented with a medal by the Director-General of Education. The final of the basket-ball competition, presided over by the Director of Sports and Physical Exercises, was played on the school premises and our school gained the "Basket-Ball Cup" for this year.

There was a new development in the formation of a Scout Patrol which has been taken up with much enthusiasm by the younger students. The patrol took part in a display performed before H.M.

King Ghazi and H.R.H. the Crown Prince of Sweden.

For the school in general, many interesting trips have been The Secondary School, among other trips, visited the oil refineries (which have recently been connected by pipeline with the Mediterranean) in Northern Iraq, and the smaller boys visited factories and places of interest in the neighbourhood of Baghdad.

The health of the students has not been neglected and the School Eye Clinic is as efficient as ever. Dr. E. Raubitchek, the doctor in charge, reports that the condition of the eyes of the boys of our school is the best, compared with that of other schools, and it shows signs of considerable improvement, the incidence of trachoma and other eye diseases having decreased.

Book-keeping in Arabic and English continues to be taught, as this is indispensable for those boys wishing to take up a commercial career. Lessons in French have also been introduced into one class, and this, we hope, will be of service later on.

In all respects the work of the school has been satisfactory. The school has many well-wishers in Baghdad and of these we must thank Mr. Ezra M. Daniel for giving a prize for the best boy in the school in Arabic, and Mr. Jacob Shamash for his interest in, and improvement of, the school. But we must regret that our school does not share in any of the prizes which are allotted to Baghdad from England.

The school was inspected by Signor Porta, the Italian Chargé d'Affaires in Baghdad, on one occasion and on another by Muzaffar Beg, Director of the Police School, Baghdad, and his assistant, and all were, we believe, favourably impressed.

We are pleased to express our deep appreciation and gratitude to the members of the Jewish Lay Council and Mr. Ittah, head of the Examination Committee, for their ever prompt response in the service of the school.

The Anglo-Jewish Association also makes grants to Schools at Basra and Hillah.

The Principal of the Basra School reports that the pupils to whom the English language is taught attach great importance to their studies. He mentions that 10 out of 11 pupils were successful in the Primary Government Examination with good results.

Mr. Jacob Solomon, President of the Saleh Sassoon Daniel School at Hillah, in a report on that institution, states:—

The school consists of seven forms with eight teachers; five forms are elementary; of the other two one is preparatory and one Midrash. The pupils number 210, of both sexes, their ages ranging from five to fourteen years. The school is adopting the Government Schools' programme, in addition to six courses of English language weekly in the fifth, fourth and third form, over and above the Hebrew language, throughout the school. As regards the Midrash form, a special programme for Hebrew and Arabic is adopted. Students in the fifth form have been admitted to the sixth form in the Government School, as in previous years. The sewing form for girls, which was established in 1930, contains twenty pupils, whose ages range between fourteen and twenty-two years. A very satisfactory result has been obtained during this period

The following passages are extracted from the Annual Report of the Sir Elly Kadoorie School:—

Honorary Teachers and Auditors.—The Committee cordially thanks Mr. Ezra Reuben, B.A., LL.B., for continuing to teach Mathematics to the Matriculation Class during the year under review. The School accounts were audited by Mr. Solomon Raymond Malekar and Mr. David Abraham Mazgaoker. The Committee sincerely thanks them for their work.

SUBSCRIBERS.—The total number of subscribers during the year was 65, of whom 11 were from the Mofussil. The total subscription received was Rs. 212 for the School and Rs. 203 for the Anglo-Jewish Association, London, as against Rs. 191 and Rs. 170 respectively during the preceding year.

GOVERNMENT AND MUNICIPAL GRANTS.—The School received from the Government Rs. 2,100 for half of 1933-34 as ordinary grant; Rs. 128 as drawing grant for the Anglo-Vernacular Department and Rs. 3,129 from the Municipal Schools Committee for the Vernacular Department. The Committee tenders sincere thanks to the Government and the Municipal Schools Committee, but regrets the increased general cut in the Annual Grant of the Municipal Schools Committee.

Anglo-Jewish Association.—The Committee is grateful to the Association for paying the aggregate annual subvention of £500 amounting to Rs. 6,618 during the course of the year. This sum includes £100 for Hebrew and Religious Instruction imparted in the School.

Hannahbai Bhorupkar Trust Fund.—The Committee received an amount of Rs. 400 from the trustees of the H. Bhorupkar Trust Fund for the year 1932, and an amount of Rs. 300 for 1933 from them. The Committee is thankful to the trustees for the increased sums.

THE GATE OF MERCY SYNAGOGUE.—The Gate of Mercy Synagogue paid Rs. 400 for the loan of the School Hallforthe Holy Day Services and Rs. 600 as a donation to the School.

The Synagogue also paid Rs. 200 for the purchase of books for poor children in the School and Rs. 1,554 as School fees on their behalf. A special grant of Rs. 501 for equipping the Science Laboratory at the School was also kindly made by the Synagogue. The Committee offers its grateful thanks to the Synagogue for its valuable support.

OTHER DONATIONS.—The Anand Bal Natall Dramatic Club gave a performance in aid of the School Laboratory and equipment of furniture. The performance yielded a net income of Rs. 121. In addition, an anonymous sum of Rs. 200 was received through Miss R. Reuben, B.A., the Principal, for science apparatus, and another sum of Rs. 100 for school furniture. Smaller sums were also received.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.—The financial situation of the School continues to be unsatisfactory and needs immediate attention, Improvement is possible only if the School can secure annual donations similar to those granted by the Anglo-Jewish Association. Deficits in the budgets have existed from year to year, and the School has been carried on so far by means of loans and other makeshifts. The number of pupils in the School is increasing, thus adding to the What little the shops have yielded in rents has been expenditure. utilised mostly for the payment of interest on the loans raised for the new School Building. In these circumstances, the Committee applied to the Director of Education to award a Building Grant for the School, for which purpose a deputation waited upon the Director of Public Instruction and the Minister of Education. , mittee's efforts were, however, of no avail, as the Director of Public Instruction intimated that there were no prospects of the claim being considered immediately.

FEEDING, CLOTHING, BOOKS AND MEDICAL AID.—Arrangements for feeding, clothing and medical aid to the poor students in the School were carried on as before. Throughout the year 66 students were served with food on School working days (Sundays excepted) and 111 students were supplied with clothes during the Holy Days. The Committee thanks Mr. Samson S. Boreghurker for depositing £100 with the Anglo-Jewish Association, the interest on which is to be used for purchasing books for poor children in the School. The amount has been invested by the Association in 3 per cent. India Loan Stock. Sincere thanks are also due to Mr. Solomon Abraham, P., Mr. Ezra Reuben, B.A., LL.B., Mr. Isaiah Isaac Shapurkar, and Mr. M. A. Moses for the presents of books for the use of School Library. A set of an old edition of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" has been added to the School Library through the good offices of Messrs. I. I. Shapurkar and B. B. Gudkar.

THE SCHOOL GARDEN.—A garden has been laid out in the School Compound at a cost of about Rs. 800 from the School Building Fund.

THE SCHOOL PREMISES.—The School premises were availed of by the following, among other institutions and members of the Community, during the course of the year:—(1) The Israelite Brotherhood; (2) The Bene-Israel Conf. Education Fund; (3) The Bene-Israel Stree Mandal; (4) The Israelite School Maccabeans; (5) The Rising Star of Israel Physical Culture Club; (6) The St. John Ambulance Brigade Overseas, Jewish Division.

TEACHING STAFF.—The Teaching Staff consists of the Principal, the Headmaster and 15 men teachers and 8 women teachers, besides a special teacher for Religion and Moral Instruction, a Science Master, a Drawing Master, a Drill Master, a Sewing Mistress and and two teachers for Hebrew Reading.

Numerical Strength of Pupils.—The following table shows the number of pupils on the rolls of the various departments of the School at the close of the year under review, as compared with that on the previous year:—

At the Matriculation Examination of the year 1933, Elijah Joshua Judah, a student of the School, won distinction in Mathematics.

Inspector Reports.—The Educational Inspector, Bombay Division, inspected the Anglo-Vernacular Department of the School and passed the following remarks: Boys play cricket and football in the School Compound. Girls play ping-pong. Standards I to V have drill twice a week. Some boys practise gymnastics also. Furniture and equipment fairly satisfactory. A few books have been added to both libraries. Records, Registers and Accounts, etc., are well kept. Religious instruction is imparted to all Israelites. Discipline is satisfactory. The range of instruction is adequate; quality is very fair. The amount of homework done is adequate and satisfactory. The health and general appearance of the students is good.

The School building is completed at long last, and now the management are anxious to collect some funds for equipment and recurring expenditure. On account of unsound financial position of the School, due to lack of permanent funds, they are unable to pay teachers reasonable salaries and maintain a good staff. There is much room for improvement in the teaching work done in all subjects. I also got the impression that many undeserving pupils had been promoted to higher classes. If the pupils of a class are not more or less of the same intelligence and age, naturally the work of the teachers will not and cannot be as fruitful as it should be. The attention of the management must now be wholly directed towards raising the general level of the School, and I do feel that it is very necessary in the interests of the School to employ some two or three specially trained and competent teachers to be in charge of the lower classes. These remarks, however, should not obscure the fact that steady progress was being made in the courses of studies. The work and devotion of the Principal are admirable, and the general tone is excellent.

The Superintendent of Aided Schools inspected the Vernacular Department of the School. His remarks on the School work are as follow: A good school housed in an excellent building with ample space for physical exercises and recreation. Progress is good on the whole. In all other subjects tested progress was satisfactory. The work of the School on the whole was good. Equipment is adequate. Accommodation is sufficient, lighting and ventilation are Registers and Records are well kept. Discipline and The staff is adequate and behaviour of pupils are satisfactory. Methods of instruction and work of sufficiently well qualified. teachers are modern and satisfactory. Progress and attainment of pupils are good. Health and general appearance of students are good.

The Council earnestly hope that, in view of the criticisms contained in the Educational Inspector's report on the Anglo-Vernacular Department, further financial support may be obtained from local sources. It is unfortunately impossible, in view of present commitments and future liabilities, to increase the present annual grant of £600.
