The Jewish Demography of Florida

Ira M. Sheskin, Ph.D.
Director of the Jewish Demography Project of the Sue and Leonard Miller Center for Contemporary Judaic Studies and Associate Professor, Department of Geography
University of Miami
All of the Slides Presented Today Are At

- www.jewishdatabank.org
Some Major Themes of this Presentation

- Florida and particularly South Florida is one of the nation's largest concentrations of Jews
- Jewish communities in Florida face challenges unlike many Northeastern and Midwestern communities
- Miami is very different from Broward and Palm Beach Counties
- South Florida is very different from other parts of Florida
Survey Methodology
Dates of Scientific Jewish Community Studies in Florida
Survey Methodology

- Random Digit Dialing (RDD) Telephone Survey methodology provides scientific validity
  - Population estimate
  - Random sample with NO sampling by Distinctive Jewish Name or from Jewish mailing lists

- For the two Palm Beach studies, 70,000 different numbers were dialed more than 110,000 times for the 3,045 Jewish households
- Outside South Florida, RDD Sampling was supplemented by sampling via Distinctive Jewish Names

Jewish Connectivity
Some Major Themes of this Presentation

- The level of home religious practice remains relatively high when Jews move to South Florida, but community involvement as shown by memberships and familiarity with Jewish agencies is very low.
- Miami is very different from Broward and Palm Beach Counties on levels of religiosity.
